Overview

Hello! I am a Backend Developer currently based in Barcelona, Spain.

I love programming and really want to contribute in any way I can to society.

I graduated with two higher certificates involving multi-platform and web application development, and at some point, I would like to finish the Computer Science degree online.

I reckon I am a resilient and highly adaptable person, and I am always motivated to learn and try new things.

For any inquiries, do not hesitate to contact me by e-mail. Thank you!
